

FROM ALL PARTS OF TENNESSEE

Reports of Interesting Events Boiled Down for Hasty Perusal.

Nashville.—The open season for doves in Tennessee is Sept. 1 to Dec. 1 and not from Aug. 15 to Jan. 1, as it has been in the past.

Sewanee.—Rev. Dr. William Porter Dubose, since 1908 dean emeritus of the theological department of the University of the South, died at his residence here at the age of 82.

Memphis.—Merchants, bankers and planters from all southern states gathered here to attend the war convention of the Cotton States Merchants' association, which held sessions August 21 and 22.

Jackson.—The Jackson Trades and Labor Council plans a mammoth celebration at the West Tennessee fair grounds on Labor Day, all the proceeds going to the local chapter of the Red Cross Society.

Knoxville.—Eight arrests have been made by members of the provost guard here in their crusade against selling whisky to soldiers. Two have been bound over to the federal grand jury. Other arrests will follow.

Jackson.—"The Farm Woman's War Work" will be a subject for much discussion at the annual meeting of the woman's branch of the West Tennessee farmers' institute, which will convene here Sept. 3, 4 and 5.

Lexington.—Rev. W. A. Gaugh has resigned the care of the Baptist church at Louisa, Ky., where he has been pastor for a term of years, and has returned to this section, where he is doing evangelistic work.

Dyersburg.—Two letters were received here last week from Sergt. Jack Todd, who was reported killed in action July 19, his mother having received a telegram on July 21 advising her of his death. The letters were dated July 23, and conveyed the information that though injured and in a hospital, he expected to be in line soon. This later news was received here with much joy. Sergt. Todd went to France with the first contingent of U. S. Marines.

Louisville, Ky.—Among the 194 graduates of the first army school for chaplains and approved chaplain candidates at Camp Zachary Taylor, were Frank Carl Shirley, Presbyterian, U. S. A. Knoxville; Roy Hamilton Biser, Disciples, Nashville; Charles Edgar Wauford, Baptist (South), Covington; Noah Wellington Williams A. M. E., Clarksville; Blair Theodore Hunt, National Baptist, Memphis. Each was commissioned a lieutenant in the United States army.

Chattanooga.—Conflict has arisen here between officers who have been active in an effort to intercept liquor coming into Chattanooga and the officials of the terminal station and the Pullman company. Orders have been issued by the Pullman company to its conductors and other employees not to permit the wholesale searching of suit cases belonging to passengers in transit or those whose destination is Chattanooga.

Nashville.—Gov. Rye on the recommendation of the supreme court has pardoned R. G. Rather, convicted in Shelby county of grand larceny. Rather had in his possession property belonging to another which he had bought from a third party with no knowledge of how the third party had obtained possession of the property other than legitimately. This fact was not established in the trial and Rather was convicted.

Deputy Auditors Ware and Puryear returned from Brushy Mountain, where they checked up the accounts at the prison. Auditor Anderson and Deputy Puryear left for Memphis to audit the books of the West Tennessee Normal.

Conductor James E. Shriver added to the list of dead as a result of a trestle giving way under the engine of a freight train headed for Nashville from the Old Hickory powder plant August 18. Shriver is the third victim of the wreck, Engineer N. G. Terry and Fireman Ernest Smith having been killed instantly.

The wreck occurred on the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad about 12 miles from this city, when the engine, pulling 45 empty cars, but taking only one car with it, dropped through the trestle into creek about 50 feet below.

Every industry and manufactory in Tennessee which is now equipped or which can be rapidly and easily equipped to produce goods, articles and other essentials of war, needed by the United States government, has been requested to do so by W. E. Myer, state fuel administrator. His plan to speed up the production of war material in the state is heartily endorsed by the Tennessee Manufacturers' association.

Lexington.—A large and enthusiastic Red Cross Society was organized at Sallito.

BELGIAN ARMY HONORS THE AMERICAN FLAG

"Old Glory" has been honored repeatedly throughout Belgium in gratitude that nation during its darkest days. In the photograph are shown officers of Belgian army together with their troops marching past the American flag in honor to the nation.

FRENCH WOMEN GIVE YANKEES FLOWERS

These American boys are off for the front in a motorcade to take their place in driving the Hun back. The French women are giving flowers to the fighters as token of their appreciation for the help that they are rendering France.

OCCUPATION FOR BLINDED SOLDIERS

Soldiers and sailors blinded in the war are learning various trades at St. Dunstan's, Regent's park, London. They are being taught to see with their hands, and are finding new experience and joy in their acquired skill. The photograph shows two of them learning poultry breeding.

MASCOT FRENCHIE WOUNDED

Frenchie, a veteran of the trenches getting expert attention at general hospital No. 6, Fort McPherson. Holding him is Sergt. S. L. B. Cohen, an invalided soldier, Frenchie's temporary proprietor, and dressing one of Frenchie's wounds is Miss Mae Burkley, United States war nurse. Frenchie is one of the latest arrivals from the trenches in France—one who has spent most of his life in the trenches, in fact, having been born in a trench in an American sector. He is a New foundland pup, five months old. He reached Fort McPherson with a detachment of wounded soldiers. Frenchie was wounded, too. His beautiful tail had been entirely shot off and one of his forelegs grievously damaged. Frenchie's mother was a message carrier in the French army. She was assigned to service with the Americans and was killed in battle. His two brothers were killed shortly afterward.

Sleep Over It.

Chauncey Depew says he has a hard and fast rule that unpleasant happenings are to be discussed in the morning, never in the evening. To this I add that before making any important decision you should always sleep over it. You may think quite differently in the morning and the delay may save you much subsequent regret.—Los Angeles Times.

Evening Matters.

"If those two men come together, there will be trouble. The big one is a six-footer." "Yes, but the little one has a six-shooter."

Temperance Notes

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

WHAT SOME BUSINESS MEN SAY ABOUT DRINK.

American Rolling Mill Co., Middletown, Ohio: We see no reason for lessening the opposition of industry to the use of alcohol as a beverage on the part of employees. As far as our experience goes, sobriety is absolutely essential to efficiency and to the progress of the individual workman.—George M. Verity, president.

Jackson (O.) Iron and Steel Company: We prohibit the use of alcohol by our employees while on duty and do all within our power to discourage the use while off duty. We favor the nondrinking men in the matter of promotion, and advance only those who are strictly sober in their habits to positions of responsibility. We are opposed to alcohol as a beverage not only for the sake of our own business, but for the sake of our employees themselves.—J. F. Morgan, secretary.

Crane Company, Chicago: We believe that drinking intoxicating liquor lessens a man's efficiency, and in considering men for promotion we lay particular stress upon sobriety.—John R. Berryman, first vice president.

Duquesne Steel Foundry Company, Coraopolis, Pa.: It has long been a policy of our company to give preference in promotion to men who are not consumers of alcoholic drinks.—L. A. Way, superintendent.

The Buckeye Rolling Mill Co., Steubenville, Ohio: You can't be a boozier and deliver the goods.—J. T. Sarrett, secretary and treasurer.

Illinois Steel Company, Joliet, Ill.: In making promotions or in determining the merits of an employee, the fact that he does not use intoxicating liquors at all will be considered in his favor, and if he does use intoxicants, it will count against him.—E. J. Burdington, president.

Marion (O.) Steam Steel Shovel Co.: Liquor is not allowed in our plant under any conditions, and any man who uses it in the evening and unites himself for business the following day is discharged.—Busby P. Sweney, general superintendent.

WHEN THE SALOON IS A BARRIER TO LABOR.

Because Bill Jones "boozes" he's worth $2.50 a day. Because Jim Smith is sober and clear-headed he's worth $3.50 a day. But the boss must strike a fair average, so he pays each $3.00 a day.

If there are two men like drinking Bill Jones in the shop, and one like sober Jim Smith, the average wage will probably be $2.75 a day. But if there are two men like sober Jim Smith and only one like drinking Bill Jones, their wage will likely be $3.25 a day.

The more men like drunken Bill Jones there are in a shop, the lower will be the average wage. The more men like sober Jim Smith, the higher the wage.

Anyway, that's the way the ordinary boss figures it. He must strike a fair average, because he has all kinds of men in the shop.

In such a situation there can be no such thing as "personal liberty." No man has the right to degrade his fellow-workers through his personal habits.—Charles Stelzle.

ONE REASON WHY.

Alexander Koski of Marquette was found dead in front of his home Sunday morning. There was a round hole at the base of his skull about the size of an ordinary revolver bullet. The deceased conducted a candy store and came home Saturday night intoxicated, and it wasn't through eating candy that he was in this condition. The man stumbled about the house, tried to get into his wife's bedroom, but she, knowing his condition, had locked the door. There was a man with him. The man's son, returning from work at about eleven that night found his father sitting in one of the downstairs rooms and afterward he heard him go out of the house at about one o'clock in the morning. Whisky was the cause of his death. He evidently fell while in his drunken condition, fracturing his skull.

It is one of a thousand reasons why, the people voted dry.—Ishpeming (Mich.) Record.

HIS PREFERENCE.

"It is the drug effect of alcohol for which beer and wine are drunk. There are palatable non-alcoholic drinks made from grains and fruits that do not produce the harmful results of alcohol. If the drinker does not desire the drug effect, he will use such drinks. If he prefers beer and wines, he prefers them for the drug effect of alcohol to the danger of the temporary or permanent injury which this drug inflicts.—Stoddard.

ON THE WATER WAGON.

Sing a song of suspense, A bottle full of rye, Eight and twenty U. States Reforming on the fly.

When the box was opened, The States began to sing, For all the votes that tumbled out Were dry as anything.—New York Post.

The city of St. Louis decided that no saloons operate under special privilege they should be 100 per cent patriotic. Therefore, the owners must buy Liberty bonds.

JUDGE DECIDES STOMACH REMEDY A GREAT SUCCESS

Commissioner of Mediation and Conciliation Board Ties EATONIO, the Wonderful Stomach Remedy, and Endorses It.

Judge William L. Chambers, who uses EATONIO as a remedy for loss of appetite and indigestion, is a Commissioner of the U. S. Board of Mediation and Conciliation. It is natural for him to express himself in guarded language, yet there is no hesitation in his pronouncement regarding the value of EATONIO. Writing from Washington, D. C., to the Eatonio Remedy Co., he says: "EATONIO promotes appetite and aids digestion. I have used it with beneficial results."

Office workers and others who sit much are martyrs to dyspepsia, belching, bad breath, heartburn, poor appetite, bloating, and impairment of general health. Are you, yourself, a sufferer? EATONIO will relieve you just as surely as it has benefited Judge Chambers and thousands of others.

Here's the secret: EATONIO drives the gas out of the body—and the Bloat Goes With It! It is guaranteed to bring relief or you get your money back! Costs only a cent or two a day to use it. Get a box today from your druggist.

Behind the Barn. Father Hibrow (with firm sarcasm)—And how do you like smoking, my son?

Willie Hibrow (caught in the act, but equal to the occasion)—I must say I regard it as a sickening habit, father. I am surprised that you, with your vaunted acumen in most matters requiring intelligence, should allow yourself to become a slave to nicotine.

TOO WEAK TO FIGHT

The "Come-back" man was really never down-and-out. His weakened condition because of overwork, lack of exercise, improper eating and living demands stimulation to satisfy the cry for a health-giving appetite and the refreshing sleep essential to strength. GOLD MEDAL, Haarlem Oil Capsules, the National Remedy of Holland, will do the work. They are wonderful. Three of these capsules each day will put a man on his feet before he knows it, whether his trouble comes from uremic acid poisoning, the kidneys, gravel or stone in the bladder, stomach derangement or other ailments that befall the over-zealous American. The best known, most reliable remedy for these troubles is GOLD MEDAL, Haarlem Oil Capsules. This remedy has stood the test for more than 200 years since its discovery in the ancient laboratories in Holland. It acts directly and gives relief at once. Don't wait until you are entirely down-and-out, but take them today. Your druggist will gladly refund your money if they do not help you. Accept no substitutes. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on every box, three sizes. They are the pure, original, imported Haarlem Oil Capsules.—Adv.

The Main Witness.

"There were number of witnesses to prove that the plaintiff was assaulted by the defendant's goat. Did the latter have any rebutting witnesses?" "Only the goat. He seemed to do all the re-buttling."

The longer a man lives the more lost opportunities he collects.
